

Department of History

The Department of History at Changu Kana Thakur Arts, Commerce and Science College, New Panvel (Autonomous) was established on 22nd September 1997. Since its inception, the department has not only focused on academic excellence but has also created a vibrant culture of co-curricular and extra-curricular activities.

We believe that learning history goes beyond textbooks-it is about experiencing the past, analyzing the present, and shaping the future. To achieve this, the department actively engages students through stimulating projects, innovative assignments, annual Historical study tours, guest lectures by eminent scholars, national and international conferences, seminars, film screenings, and the publication of its annual mini-magazine Jidnyasa.

To nurture research-oriented minds, the department maintains its own reference library of over 120 books, offering students easy access to diverse historical literature. Alongside academics, we also conduct a skill-based certificate course in Numismatic Science, workshop on Modi Script equipping learners with practical knowledge and professional skills.

The study of History opens up a wide spectrum of career opportunities such as Civil Services, Teaching and Lectureship, Archaeology, Museum Curation, Archival Science, Travel and Tourism, Journalism, Law, and Research.

Above all, the department is committed to instilling a genuine love for history among students through innovative learning methods and outreach programmes, ensuring that they carry forward both knowledge and curiosity into their chosen careers.
